

Fondation RITC

Recherche Innovation
Thérapeutique Cancérologie

The “Fondation RITC” is offering 2 grants for PhD students to conduct research on a program in oncology in collaboration with other disciplines such as physics, chemistry, mathematics, ... The grants will be 100 k€ each on a 3-year project.

This program has two main goals :

- To favor the emergence of innovative project
- To develop fruitful scientific cooperation between different disciplines

ELIGIBILITY OF THE TEAMS :

- The main team (where the PhD student will be appointed to) must be affiliated to the RITC Network.
- The associated teams must come from different disciplines, and work on an interdisciplinary program.

FACTORS CONSIDERED IN THE EVALUATION OF THE CANDIDATES:

- List of publications of the teams
- Quality, originality, and relevance of the project
- Specificity and expertise of each team
- Explain how the 2 (or more) teams are complementary

APPLICATION CONTENT

- List of publications of the teams
- 20-line summary of the program
- 5-page description of the research project
- the results expected
- the potential impact on translational research
- Contact information of the teams

SCHEDULE

- Application deadline : April 15th, 2011
- Evaluation by the International Advisory Council : May 27th -28th, 2011
- Decision by the Board of Directors: June 9th, 2011